

CONTENTS

Editorial

Dannyelle Valente

Research

- p. 13 - The Relationship between Tactile Graphics and Mathematics for Students with Visual Impairments
Valerie Morash, Amanda McKerracher (USA)
- p. 23 - Toward a Construction and a Reading Model of Tactile Graphics for Educational Purposes
María del Pilar Correa Silva (Chile)
- p. 33 - The Relative Advantage of Tactile 2D Route Representations for Navigation Without Sight through a Complex Urban Environment
Yasmine Boumenir, Bertrand Verine, Guy Rebillard, Birgitta Dresp-Langley (France)
- p. 45 - Classification of Tactile Pictures of Expressive Faces by Blind Adults
Samuel Lebaz, Delphine Picard (France)
- p. 53 - Interaction between Braille and Tactile Pictures for Deeper Understanding
Yvonne Eriksson, Kerstin Fellenius (Sweden)
- p. 65 - Construction of a 2D Haptic Tests Battery for Use with Children and Adolescents with and without Visual Impairment
Anaïs Mazella, Mélanie Labardin, Sandra Mesnieres, Jean-Michel Albaret, Delphine Picard (France)
- p. 75 - Transversal Learning: a Key to Autonomy for Visually Impaired Children. Investigation in a Special School
Anne-Lise Mithout (France)

Report of experience

- p. 85 - Kahani Her Mehine Ki – The Same Story, Every Month: A Learning Tool on Menstruation for the Visually Impaired
Lakshmi Murthy, Sadhvi Thukral (India)
- p. 109 - Project Book in a Box = BOOX
Aksinja Kermauner (Slovenia)
- p. 121 - Didactic and Cheap Strategies for School Teachers who have Blind and/or Deaf-Blind Students
Pedro Antonio Federsoni Jr., Silvana Campos da Rocha Calixto (Brazil)
- p. 131 - Questioning on the Physical Guidance of Visually Impaired Children
Véronique Morra (France)
- p. 137 - So Called Autistic-Like Behaviors in Children with Visual Impairments: Is It The Right Label?
Andrea Urqueta Alfaro (USA)
- p. 147 - Brief history of Les Doigts Qui Rêvent
- p. 148 - Contents of the first 3 issues of Terra Haptica